My museum visit

Julia

Last week, I went to the Cartoon Museum with my mum. It's a small museum and we had to ask for directions because we got lost on our way there. When we finally got there, we walked around the various exhibitions, including one about the history of cartoons. The best part for me was joining a one-hour drawing class. An artist talked about his work and I did some cartoons of my own. It was a great little museum, but I saw most things, so I'm not planning to return.

Becky

I visited the Natural History Museum with my dad when I was younger, but this was my first visit on my own. I already knew about some of the stuff at the museum from lessons at school, but I was amazed at how much I enjoyed the exhibitions. My favourite one was the dinosaur exhibition. It was the busiest part of the museum and full of people, but I didn't mind that. I've been several times already, so I don't think I'll visit again.

Tania

I'm so glad my mum took me to the News Museum. It has exhibitions about the news and is different from most other museums because it's more about events than things. Unfortunately, I didn't have time to see everything, so I've already decided to go back. My favourite part was a special theatre showing short videos of interesting news reports. There was also an exhibition about photo-journalists and their work. I really enjoyed learning how they get such good pictures.

PART 3

QUESTIONS 14–18

For each question, choose the correct answer.

Visiting the Kennedy Space Center in the USA

16-year-old Sophie Timms describes her school trip

Earlier this year, my school in England decided to send a group of four students on a trip to the Kennedy Space Center in Florida, USA. I wanted to go but knew that many other students did too. I decided to put my name on the list of interested students and then forgot all about it. A few weeks later, I couldn't believe it when I heard I was in the group.

On the 10th of March, I flew from England to Florida with my classmates Toby, Alice, Chris and our teacher Mr Scott. At the Space Center there was so much to see and do, and we all took lots of photos. Mr Scott planned each day carefully. He also asked me to keep a blog of our experiences and Toby agreed to make a short film.

I learnt so much. We met engineers and astronauts who explained a lot about space travel. It was brilliant to be around people who shared my love of space. They were really helpful and told me what I needed to do to get a job with a space project.

When I got back to school, I had to give a talk about the trip to the other students. I enjoyed talking about the Space Center and was pleased that everyone liked my photos. I found it quite hard to remember everything I learnt about the planet Mars, however! My favourite part was answering students' questions at the end. It was fun sharing my experiences with everyone.

- 14 What do we learn about Sophie in the first paragraph?
- A She was worried about travelling so far.
  - B She was surprised she was chosen to go on the trip.
  - C She was pleased that not many students wanted to go on the trip.
- 15 What did Sophie do during the visit?
- A She filmed a video.
  - B She wrote about the trip.
  - C She chose the day's activities.
- 16 What does Sophie say about the engineers she met?
- A They discussed their next trip to space.
  - B They gave her advice about working on a space project.
  - C They wanted to change people's ideas about space travel.
- 17 What is Sophie doing in the last paragraph?
- A describing what happened when she returned
  - B giving information about an astronaut's work
  - C explaining how important her trip was
- 18 What did Sophie enjoy most about the talk she gave?
- A telling the students about Mars
  - B showing the students her photos
  - C answering the students' questions
